

Kristy Daniels Jackson, ED.S Bio

Kristy Jackson, ED. S. , a serial entrepreneur, is the co-founder Social Synergy Project which houses an coworking incubator space for underrepresented entrepreneurs. She is the CEO of DK Solutions creative consulting and owner of the DK Annex private meeting space.

Kristy also serves as the Gifted Curriculum Coordinator for the Webster Groves School District, the first women of color to serve in this role. She is an adjunct professor in gifted education at Webster University and Maryville University for the Maryville Young Scholars Program. Kristy's published work includes the Captain MAP testing program and a chapter in the new book, Leading the Connected Classroom: Recapturing the Heart and Soul of Teaching and Learning. Kristy was recently featured in the People on the Move Business Highlight in the St. Louis American Newspaper and Deluxe Magazine as one of St. Louis TOP 50 Most Intriguing Women.

Kristy's community engagement includes volunteering as District A Director and Board of Directors member of the Gifted Association of MO, YMCA Community Literacy Board of Directors President (April 2015), Maryville University Young Scholars Advisory Board member, MO Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium reviewer, and the National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC). She has also served on the Fontbonne University Alumni Board of Directors, Metro Theater Co. and Stages St. Louis Boards. Kristy has presented at local, state, and national educational conferences. Kristy holds a B.A. in Education from Fontbonne University, a M.A.T. and an Education Specialist degree from Webster University. She is married to James Jackson, II and has two daughters, Kelsie and Jada.